

GRUNDSTEIN GLOBAL

Member Role: Recruiter

About Grundstein Global

Grundstein Global is a community, and your personal network, of highly motivated and talented students. The community is shaped and run by its members.

Our mission is to create a community for ambitious, talented and globally minded individuals who can inspire one another to excel in their chosen career paths and build lifelong relationships.

Why Join Us?

The environment of a person profoundly shapes the path they take. More importantly, the people one spends time and works with heavily influence one's entire life. By joining Grundstein, you will be surrounded by eager and talented people from different fields. This will influence your ideas, the way you work, the possibilities you have.

Grundstein does not only connect you with successful people. It also drives you to be more successful.

Primary Role Description

Grundstein is defined by its members. Thus, the role of recruiter is pivotal in the community's success. The role entails the design and implementation of a selective recruitment process that is both enjoyable for candidates and allows Grundstein to determine whether a candidate fits our community's profile.

Size of Recruitment team: 1-3 initial members with diverse backgrounds

Wider Responsibilities

As a member of Grundstein Global, you are expected to support the running and development of the community through accepting and creating tasks/projects related to your area(s) of expertise, or an area you are interested in.
